Pearl's Wisdom at Homeland Council

Marc Pearl is the President and CEO of the Homeland Security & Defense Business Council, an organization comprised of more than 40 large and small companies that offer homeland security products, technologies and services to government customers at all levels. GSN's editor-in-chief, Jacob Goodwin, recently chatted with Pearl about his organization and his views on the upcoming Obama administration.

Cell phone tracking can thwart terrorists

By JACOB GOODWIN

Imagine this hypothetical scenario: An Al Qaeda terrorist hiding in the Iraqi city of Tikrit uses his cell phone to call a second cell phone in Baghdad, 100 miles to the south, which triggers the detonation of an improvised explosive device (IED) buried underground, just outside a busy international hotel, instantly killing dozens of innocent Americans.

Now imagine that U.S. and Iraqi authorities, utilizing the latest in U.S. cell phone location tracking technology, can swiftly identify every cell phone that was operating in the vicinity of that hotel just before the explosion, can pinpoint

Security blimp eyes Madonna from above Dodger Stadium

By ETAN ROSENBLUM

This article marks the first time that GSN has reported undercover from a Madonna concert. Worry not, the magazine isn't interested in the ins and outs of Madonna's security detail. (For the record, the Queen of Pop can defend herself just fine -- at 50 years old, she has the chiseled physique of an More on Page 19
